CHAPTER III

At last the time came when the young man was to be married. He had been waiting for a long time, and now the day had finally arrived.

He was a young man of about twenty years of age, with a fair complexion and dark hair. He was well educated and had a good position in the law.

His name was John, and he was the only son of a wealthy family. He had been engaged to a young woman named Mary for some time, and they were now about to be married.

On the day of the wedding, the church was filled with guests. The ceremony was performed by the local minister, and the wedding was a grand affair.

After the wedding, the young couple went on a honeymoon to a beautiful resort. They were very happy and enjoyed their time together.

They were married in the year 1880, and their lives were very happy. They had several children and lived in a large, comfortable house.

CHAPTER IV

The young man and woman were now a married couple. They had been married for some time, and their lives were very happy.

They had several children, and they were all very well. The young man was now a successful lawyer, and the young woman was a good housewife.

One day, the young man was out walking in the park. He was thinking about his life and how happy he was.

He was walking along a path, and he saw a young woman sitting on a bench. She was looking very sad, and he went over to see what was wrong.

She told him that she was a young woman who had been married for some time, but her husband was not happy with her.

She was very sad, and she was thinking about leaving him. The young man listened to her story and felt very sorry for her.
